The Five WOWs of The On Page Planning and Performance System

Navigate to any plan with the click-thru organization chart. Each One Page Business Plan has five components that work together to describe the profit center, department, project or program being built, why it is being built, how it will be built, and the specific measurable results that will be accomplished.

Click on any Objective and a One Page Performance Scorecard™ opens. The scorecard shows actual, budget, forecast and last year actual, both graphically and quantitatively. This system uniquely links plans and performance reporting in a very simple, highly effective manner.

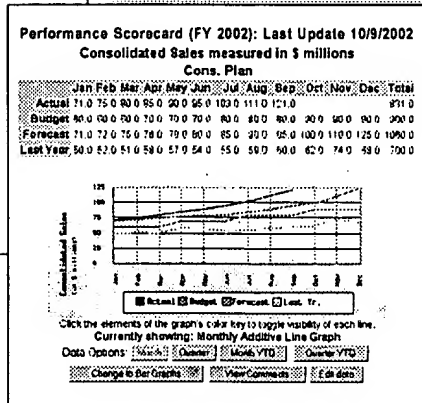

ONE PAGE PLANS
Click on any business unit to see a One Page Plan.

Imagine being able to click on any Planned Action in any business unit and viewing a concise progress report. This feature greatly simplifies progress reporting. Progress reports will never get lost in the mail again!

ONE PAGE PROGRESS REPORTS
Click on any Plan to view One Page Progress Reports.

This system tracks the status and version of every manager's plan using a simple color system. Approved plans are green, drafts are yellow and un-posted plans are red. The status of every plan in your company or organization is obvious at a glance.

Click on any manager's name and display all of the manager's One Page Scorecards or Progress Reports. This feature facilitates the quick assessment of monthly, quarterly and year-to-date results and progress against plans.

Implementation is Easy and Can be Accomplished in as Little as 4 Weeks...

Business and corporate planning processes have changed little in the last thirty years. They remain highly complex, overly time consuming and very ineffective. CEOs and business owners complain their planning processes take too long and are of little value... and yet they have their management teams prepare a new one every year. Why not implement a results-based system that links planning, implementation, and accountability?

Train, Educate, and Mentor your Management Team

Our consulting services include complete strategic and business planning capabilities using the One Page Methodology. We train, educate, mentor, coach and facilitate your team in the use of the One Page Planning and Performance System. Our team can lead and facilitate one-day in-house training programs or extensive planning retreats. We specialize in fast growth companies experiencing rapid change. Our team works equally well with young managers as well as working with Fortune 500 executives.

Experienced Consulting Team

Our One Page Planning Team consists of seasoned business executives, former business owners and senior consultants who truly understand business. This team has been carefully selected, trained and certified in One Page Methodology. These consultants will work closely with you to create and implement a comprehensive plan in days... not months!

Performance Management and Executive Leadership Programs

Our seasoned consultants have expertise in leadership training, team development, and performance management. They understand strategic planning and managing for results... and have all participated in building successful businesses. We can design and implement complete budgeting, forecasting and accountability/business review systems to complement your One Page Planning and Performance System.

The One Page Business Plan Company

Simple, Understandable, Actionable... One Page Plans Drive Results!

The One Page Business Plan Company is a national provider of planning and performance management systems. Its innovative web-based enterprise planning and performance management system is rapidly becoming the tool of choice for CEOs across the country because of its ability to quickly produce a set of plans that the entire organization can understand and implement.

Plans are created using a proprietary methodology based on the best-selling book, The One Page Business Plan. The methodology enables a CEO to fully engage his/her executive team through a highly collaborative process of creating, sharing and aligning plans enterprise-wide. The web-based system uniquely links performance scorecards directly to text-based objectives to facilitate tracking results and creating an environment of accountability.

The Company operates as an Application Service Provider (ASP) providing access through the web for a monthly fee. The Company, headquartered in Berkeley, California, has a network of 140+ senior consultants who market and deliver its products and services throughout the U.S., Canada, and South America.
